The dilatory policy of the Westerly town council in the matter of paving the section of the Broad street bridge that belongs to the town of Westerly is the cause of considerable criticism and has aroused interest in the subject in the semi-official organization known as the Westerly Board of Trade that may result in lively action on the part of the councilmen in the subject of of the councilmen in the subject of public interest. Over three years ago the selectmen of Stonington and the councilmen of Westerly held a conference in the hope that the entire bridge might be paved at the same time and by the same contractor and to the mutual advantage of both towns.

After waiting a reasonable time for the representatives of Westerly to take definite action, and when it was offi-cially announced that the town of Westerly would not enter into the con-Westerly would not enter into the con-tract, unless the Groton and Stoning-ton trolley road extended its tracks into Westerly, but which must not be permitted until the trolley fare was reduced to five cents between Westerly and Stonington, the selectmen of Ston-ington acted independently. That sec-tion of the bridge that lies within the town of Stonington was paved with vitrified brick. There the matter has rested, with spasmodic reference by the Westerly councilmen with insistthe Westerly councilmen with insist-ence that when the bridge is paved the material be native granite blocks and not vitrified brick. It is the opinion of experts that the brick is preferable to granite on that particular bridge for granite on that particular bridge for the reason that brick is lighter and that the vibrating effect on the bridge would be lighter. The corporation that constructed the bridge has de-clared that brick is preferable to granite and would not shorten the nat-ural long life of the bridge.

As the subject seemed to have been forgotten by the town council, and believing there was public demand for the improvement, especially since the trolley tracks have been extended, and

A lame, a weak or an aching back Often tells you of kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Here is Norwich testimony.

Mrs. Catherine Goode, 99 Thames Birect, Norwich, Conn., says: "I suffered for years from kidney trouble. the first symptom being pain and weakness in the small of my back. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused me much annoyance. Spots often appeared before my eyes and my health was badly run down. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at N. D. requested the town council to take definite and favorable action.

The original objection to the use of vitrified brick has faded away, for at the council meeting which a representative of the Board of Trade attended it was explained that the work was not carried on as there were no available funds for the purpose. When it was explained that the trolley company would pay a proportionate part of the expense, and that the section of the bridge already paved cost the town of Stonington about $400, there was a changed opinion in the council, and it is probable that the work will be done and that the material to be used will match the vitrified brick pavement on the Stonington section of the bridge.

While the family of James Gardner was away from their home near the White Dog curve, about midway between Westerly and Bradford, Tuesday afternoon, a man entered the house, but was discovered in time to prevent wholesale robbery. Mrs. Gardner upon returning home was surprised to find the door open, though she declares the door was locked when she left home. Upon entering, she found a strange man in one of the rooms. He said he called for something to eat, and, findman in one of the rooms. He said he called for something to eat, and, finding the door open, he had just walked in. The man left the premises in short order. Subsequent investigation showed that he had stolen a lady's gold watch and a pair of eyegiasses. The facts were reported to the Westerly police and a fair description of the intruder given. intruder given.

The self-designated flying squadron of the progressive party that is touring the state in automobiles in advancing the Roosevelt interests arrived in Dixon square Wednesday afternoon short-ly after 3 o'clock and held a political rally, the sneakers holding forth from the touring cars. The speakers wer-avored with a large audience and the members of the flying squadron were surprised at the gathering which, they said, was much larger than assembled in places in the state much larger than Westerly. The party left Dixon square for the White Rock section of the town for the White Rock section of the town with the belief that Westerly was the stronghold of Buil Moosism in the state. But in this the political visitors are mistaken, for fully-nine-terfils of those at the meeting were gathered together when the flying squadron arrived in front of the Nash news store, watching the bulletins being posted of the progress of the championship game between the Glants and the Red Sox.
